

What is a gun violence restraining order?

It is a court order that temporarily prohibits someone from having any firearms (guns), firearm parts, including finished or unfinished receivers and frames, also called "ghost guns", ammunition, or magazines (any ammunition feeding device). The person must turn in, sell, or store all such items that the person currently owns.

For more information about prohibited items and obeying these orders, please see <http://selfhelp.courts.ca.gov/restraining-orders/prohibited-items>.

I've been served with a Petition for Gun Violence Restraining Order. What do I do?

Read the papers served on you very carefully. The Notice of Court Hearing (form GV-109) tells you when to appear in court. There may also be a Temporary Gun Violence Restraining Order (form GV-110) prohibiting you from having any firearms (guns), firearm parts, ammunition, or magazines and requiring you to turn in, sell, or store any such items that you currently own or possess. You must obey the order until the hearing.

Who can ask for a gun violence restraining order?

The petition must have been filed by a:

- 1 Law enforcement officer or law enforcement agency,
- 1 An employer,
- 1 A coworker who has had "regular interactions" with you for at least a year,
- 1 A teacher or employee of a school that you have attended in the last 6 months, or
- 1 An immediate family member of yours.

Immediate family member is defined by this law to include people who are not blood relatives. The definition includes (1) your spouse or domestic partner; (2) your parents, children, siblings, grandparents, and grandchildren and their spouses, including any stepparent or stepgrandparent; (3) your spouse's parents, children (your stepchildren), siblings, grandparents, and grandchildren; and (4) any other person who regularly resides in the household, or who, within the last six months, regularly resided in the household.

What if I don't obey the temporary order?

The police can arrest you. You can go to jail and pay a fine. You could lose access to firearms and other items for a longer period of time.

What if I don't agree with what the order says?

If you disagree with the order that the Petitioner is asking for, fill out Response to Petition for Gun Violence Restraining Order (form GV-120) before your hearing date and file it with the court. You can get the form from legal publishers or on the Internet at www.courts.ca.gov/forms. You also may be able to find it at your local courthouse or county law library.

What if I don't oppose the Petition?

If you agree to give up your access to firearms and your rights to own, possess, and buy guns, firearm parts, ammunition, and magazines for the time period requested in the petition, which is between one and five years, then you can fill out Consent to Gun Violence Restraining Order and Surrender of Firearms (form GV-125) and check the box for item 4a. Make sure you take it to the court clerk and file it, and then mail it to the person or law enforcement agency that applied for the petition. The court will issue the gun violence restraining order before the hearing and remove the hearing from the calendar. You do not have to go to your court date, and the court will mail you a copy of the order. Make sure you check with the court to see if you have to show up for your court date.

Will I have to pay a filing fee?

No.

Do I have to serve the other person with a copy of my response?

Yes. Have someone age 18 or older—not you—mail a copy of completed Response to Petition for Gun Violence Restraining Order (form GV-120) to the person who asked for the order (or that person's lawyer). (This is called "service by mail.")

The person who serves the form by mail must fill out Proof of Service by Mail (form GV-250). Have the person who did the mailing sign the original. Take the completed form back to the court clerk or bring it with you to the hearing.

Do I need a lawyer?

Having a lawyer is always a good idea, but it is not required, and you are not entitled to a free, court-appointed attorney. Ask the court clerk about free and low-cost legal services and self-help centers in your county.

Should I attend the court hearing?

Yes. You should attend the hearing on the date listed on Notice of Court Hearing (form GV-109). If you do not attend the hearing, the judge can extend the order against you for a period between one and five years without hearing from you.

The image shows a sample of the 'Notice of Court Hearing' form (GV-109). The form is titled 'GV-109 Notice of Court Hearing' and includes sections for:

- Petitioner: Name, relationship to respondent, and address.
- Respondent: Full name.
- Hearing: Date, time, and location.
- Temporary Gun Violence Restraining Order: A section where the petitioner can request the order and specify if it should be granted or denied until the hearing.

 The form also includes a 'Court file in case number when form is filed' box and a 'Case Number' field. At the bottom, it says 'Notice of Court Hearing (Gun Violence Prevention)' and 'GV-109, Page 1 of 3'.

You can attend the hearing by remotely, such as by telephone or videoconference, or go to court in person. Check with your local court for instructions on how to appear remotely. Information is also available on the court's website, which you can find here www.courts.ca.gov/find-my-court.htm.

Information about the process is also available online

How long does the order last?

If the court issued a temporary restraining order before the hearing, it will last until your hearing date. At that time, the court will decide whether to issue a gun violence restraining order that can last for one to five years.

Will I see the person who asked for the order at the court hearing?

Assume that the person who is asking for the order will attend the hearing. It is probably best not to talk to them unless the judge or that person's attorney says that you can.

Can I bring a witness to the court hearing?

Yes. You can bring witnesses or documents that support your case to the hearing. But if possible, you should also bring the witnesses' written statements of what they saw or heard. Their statements must be made under penalty of perjury. (You can use Declaration (form MC-030) for this purpose.)

Can I agree with the protected person to terminate the order?

No. Once the order is issued, only the judge can change or terminate it. You would have to file a request with the court to terminate the order.

What if I need help to understand English?

When you file your papers, ask the clerk if a court interpreter is available. You can also use form INT-300, Request for Interpreter (Civil), or a local court form or website to request an interpreter. For more information about court interpreters, go to www.courts.ca.gov/selfhelp-interpreter.htm.

What if I have a disability?

If you have a disability and need an accommodation while you are at court, you can use form MC-410, Disability Accommodation Request, to make your request. You can also ask the ADA Coordinator in your court for help. For more information, see form MC-410-INFO, How to Request a Disability Accommodation for Court.
